

DOL – What Builds Wealth for Society

Sentences for the Board

1.

the clas was glad to git back from the feld trip to the post office

“are we goin too studi more jobs

“asked ben

“well, we ar goin to sutdy how a countre creatse wealth,” sad t eh teachre

“great,thin well al bee reich,” sad Bil

2.

“what doo you mean about making wealth in a countri “ asked kim

“well, the studi off producing wealth iss caulled ‘Economics’,” said tth teachre

“AnD economics is usualle studiede in college,” she said

“but i want you too leanr thes ideas whil yuo ar young so that you make money
whin you get oldre “

3.

“why are we studeing college stuf “
asked Bil

“my dade says tha college peopel who thinks they are so smatr are what is rong with this countre “

“will, what dose he think off inigrants “
asket the teahcer

“he thinks that they come here an steal
our jobz,” said Bill

“Ha, you mean that everybody wantz to be a maid,” said Rosa

4.

“my mome is a maid, an she dont thin imegrants wan to steal her job, “ said Ashley

Corrected Sentences

The class was glad to get back from the field trip to the post office.

“Are we going to study more jobs?”
asked Ben.

“Well, we are going to study how a country creates wealth,” said the teacher.

“Great, then we’ll all be rich,” said Bill.

“What do you mean about making wealth in a country?” asked Kim.

“Well, the study of producing wealth is called ‘Economics’,” said the teacher.

“And economics is usually studied in college,” she said.

“But I want you to learn these ideas while you are young so that you make money when you get older.”

“Why are we studying college stuff?”
asked Bill.

“My dad says that college people who think they are so smart are what is wrong with this country.”

“Well, what does he think of immigrants?” asked the teacher.

“He thinks that they come here and steal
our jobs,” said Bill.

“Ha, you mean that everybody wants to
be a maid,” said Rosa.

“My mom is a maid, and she doesn’t think immigrants want to steal her job,” said Ashley.

DOL – What Builds Wealth for Society

“in fact, hre boss cant find peopel to do the job, so my mome has to wokr overtime”

“is your mo proud off the wrok she dose
“ asket the teachre

“yeS, she make enoughe to car for my brother an me an to pay for her college night school classes “

5.

the teahcre saw that som students dide not wan to studi economics so, she treid to thin off a way to mak the clas fnu

“lets runn this calss lik a business,” seh said

“that way, som studentz will practic bein rich,” she said

“ i. wan to bee ric ,” said Bill

6.

“most peopel dont start uto being rich,, they has to earn the muney “said the teachre

“will, how cna wee do that inn class “ asket kim

“i know,, the teacher can pa us four all our work : said amy

“nO fair,, then onle the smar kidz an the teachers petz will be rich : said Bill

“whi should i pa you four your wrok unless i can sell itt or use it “ asked the teacher

“In fact, her boss can’t find people to do the job, so my mom has to work overtime.”

“Is your mom proud of the work she does?” asked the teacher.

“Yes, she makes enough to care for my brother and me, and to pay for her college night school classes.”

The teacher saw that some students did not want to study economics.

So, she tried to think of a way to make the class fun.

“Let’s run this class like a business,” she said.

“That way, some students will practice being rich,” she said.

“I want to be rich,” said Bill.

“Most people don’t start out being rich, they have to earn the money,” said the teacher.

“Well, how can we do that in class?” asked Kim.

“I know, the teacher can pay us for all our work,” said Amy.

“No fair, then only the smart kids and the teacher’s pets will be rich,” said Bill.

“Why should I pay you for your work unless I can sell it or use it?” asked the teacher.

DOL – What Builds Wealth for Society

7.

“sa,, I can mak mone sellin copyies of the homework,” said Bill

“nO wa, wee will onle bui homework frum the smart studentz,” said amy

“yea,, I dont want too buy homework that is rong,” said ben

“sO,, it look’s lik the smartist ones still get riche,” said the teachre

“Say, I can make money selling copies of the homework,” said Bill.

“No way, we will only buy homework from the smart students,” said Amy.

“Yea, I don’t want to buy homework that is wrong,” said Ben.

“So, it looks like the smartest ones still get rich,” said the teacher.

8.

“i kno,, lets sel valentines kisses,” sad ben

“yea,, if wee get $1.00 eahc, we well bee rich,” sad ken

‘ha, no won will pa a dollar too kis any ov the ‘uglies’ we has her,” said Bill

“will, we own oure lipps, an no on asket us if they could us our properti,” said amy

“I know, lets sell Valentine’s kisses,” said Ben.

“Yea, if we get $1.00 each, we will be rich,” said Ken.

“Ha, no one will pay a dollar to kiss any of the ‘Uglies’ we have here,” said Bill.

“Well, we own our lips, and no one asked us if they could use our property,” said Amy.

9.

the teachre tolds the clas that peopel dont spend mone on thins they dont want she aslo said that they will pa mores for thinks that othre people wants whin a person says that they will pa an amount for a thing, that is callet making a “bid.”

“will,, i bid $2.00 to kiss my girlfirend, rosa,” said ken

The teacher told the class that people don’t spend money on things they don’t want.

She also said that they will pay more for things that other people want.

When a person says that he will pay an amount for a thing, that is called, making a “Bid.”

“Well, I bid $2.00 to kiss my girlfriend, Rosa,” said Ken.

DOL – What Builds Wealth for Society

10.

“rosa is pretty,, so ill bid $3.00 to kisss here,,” said bob

”oh, will i bid $4.00,,” said sam

“Whin peopel keep biddin against eahe other, that is caulled a auction,,” said the teachre

“will i dont want too bee auctioned of like som race hores,,” said rosa

“mayb sum things arent for sal,,” said the teacher

“Rosa is pretty, so I’ll bid $3.00 to kiss her,,” said Bob.

“Oh, well I bid $4.00,,” said Sam.

“When people keep bidding against each other, that is called an auction,,” said the teacher.

“Well I don’t want to be auctioned off like some race horse,,” said Rosa.

“Maybe some things aren’t for sale,,” said the teacher.